PACT UNSIGNED AND NEAR EAST BREACH WIDENS

Smyrna Commander Informs Allied Naval Chiefs Off City That He Will Take Steps to Eject Craft If Decree Not Complied With.

IS THREAT OF FORCE IF ORDER NOT OBEYED

All Efforts At Mediation Between Moslems and Europeans Fail and Ismet Leaves For Angora Without Signature On Peace Treaty.

(Associated Press.)

LAUSANNE, Feb. 7.—All mediation has definitely failed. Turkey will not sign the allied treaty at the present time, even with the latest concessions proposed and Ismet Pasha has left Angora to consult with his government.

George Tchitcherin, the Russian foreign minister, starts tonight for Moscow.

Thus, after seventy-nine days of ceaseless negotiations in an effort to establish peace in the Near East and restore Turkey to the comity of nations, nothing has been accomplished. However, no one apparently wants war and efforts will now be directed to obtain what one diplomat called "a patched up peace."

Threat of Force.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 7.—The Turkish commander at Smyrna has informed the commanders of the allied warships there that he has orders to enforce their withdrawal if they do not comply with the Turkish order to leave Smyrna.

Constantinople dispatches yesterday announced that the Turks had notified the foreign commissions in Constantinople that after today no foreign warship exceeding 1,000 tons might enter the harbor of Smyrna and that no two ships of one nation would be allowed there at the same time.

The allies protested to the Angora government against this order and as a result of a conference of the allied admirals, the British admiral, Nicholson, on board the British cruiser Curacoa, was ordered to Smyrna.

Green, director of the national vigilance committee of the associated advertising clubs of the world, who disappeared on January 22, has been located in Birmingham, Ala., through telegrams sent by Green to business associates and to his wife, the New York police announced tonight.

The club had offered a reward of $1,000 for information concerning Green's whereabouts.

Much Sickness Among Employes At the Postoffice

The epidemic of colds and grippe has temporarily retired about twenty-five of the postoffice employes. About nine carriers and fifteen clerks have been out of service for about two weeks. The condition has forced Postmaster W. H. McClay to employ substitutes, and he asks that the public be patient if the service is not up to par.

ALL INSTITUTIONS WILL BE VISITED

House Committee Divides the Traveling Job Among Its Members.

Members of the house committee on state institutions have agreed among themselves as to which state institutions each of them will visit during week end periods and at other times when they can get away from their regular legislative duties. The house has authorized them to make the trips at state expense.

Ten institutions in all, located elsewhere than at Lincoln, will be visited in this manner. The only ones left off the list are the school for blind at Nebraska City, where some of the members have already been to look over the Arbor Lodge property, offered to the state as a park, and the soldiers' home at Grand Island.

Institutions at Lincoln will be visited by the whole committee at convenient times. Three of its members will go to each of the others. They have been assigned as follows:

Beatrice, feeble-minded institute—Messrs. Keck, Svoboda and Colman.

Geneva, girls' industrial school—Messrs. Thompson, Keck, and George B. Collins.

Hastings insane hospital—Messrs. Gilmore, Svoboda and Pollard.

Kearney, tuberculosis hospital and boys' industrial school—Messrs. Colman, Miner and C. L. Yochum.

Milford, soldiers' home and women's industrial home—Messrs. Pollard, Hansen and Egger.

Norfolk, insane hospital—Messrs. Thomsen, Miner and C. L. Yochum.

Omaha, school for deaf—Messrs. George B. Collins, Keck and Egger.

York women's reformatory—Messrs. George B. Collins, Gilmore and Hansen.

PATHFINDER CLUB FOR MILL LEVY

The Lincoln Pathfinder club unanimously passed a resolution endorsing the mill levy for public schools as opposed to the flat levy now in effect at its regular luncheon Wednesday noon at the Grand hotel. M. L. Palmer, member of the Lincoln board of education, presented the matter to the club, telling of the difficulty the board is having to get the legislature to grant the levy on a mill basis.

Edward W. Fogg of Buck's Bootery gave a very interesting talk on the manufacture of shoes and of foot troubles and corrective appliances. He explained the kinds of leather used and named the four processes of manufacture. The United States imports between five and six million pounds of leather annually, he said. Mr. Fogg exhibited a skeleton of a foot and demonstrated how foot troubles develop and how the most modern appliances correct these troubles.

Miss Louise Stonehocker of the University School of Music sang a group of songs. She was accompanied by Miss Bertha Reese.

HOUSE TURNS ON MINIMUM WAGE MEASURE

Gallagher Bill Is Killed By Vote of 39 to 43, After Having Received Favorable Vote in Committee of Whole.

CHARGES DEFEAT TO A BIG LOBBY

Introducer Claims Pressure Brought to Bear to Defeat Bill By Telephone Companies, Laundries and Mercantile Houses.

After getting a favorable vote of 58 to 40 a week ago in committee of the whole, the Gallagher minimum wage bill for women was killed by the house of representatives on third reading Wednesday forenoon. It received only 39 votes for final passage the negative vote being 43. There were many changes by members who had helped to advance it for third reading but voted "no" on the last roll call.

The Gallagher bill, H. R. 95, had been held over several days, its introducer being on the sick list. He returned on Tuesday, and Wednesday forenoon, just preceding the noon recess, he called the bill up for third reading. There were still a good many absentees and it would have had been a tight squeeze in any event, but the actual lineup showed that the bill had no chance of passage.

Mr. Gallagher took the defeat of his pet measure much to heart. He charged that two paid lobbyists had been working against it ever since the house voted on January 31 to advance it. Telephone companies, laundries, large mercantile establishments, and other concerns, he asserted, had helped to turn the tide.

"I was informed that great pressure had been brought to bear on the house, but I did not believe enough votes could be changed to accomplish the defeat of the bill," Gallagher stated.

A call of the house was demanded to bring in absentees, but no more came in and the call was raised immediately. Following was the vote:

The bill had been amended in committee of the whole so that it applied only in cities above 3,000 population. It fixed the minimum wage at $12 a week or 25 cents per hour, except for apprentices with less than three months' experience.

Man Who Took Life of Former Seward Mayor Dies in Lincoln

Arthur Andrews Succumbs in State Hospital Where He Was Sent Following Fatal Shooting of His Father-in-law.

Arthur Andrews, known as Patrick McFarland, who shot and killed his father-in-law, George A. Merriam, former mayor of Seward and attempted to take the lives of his wife and mother-in-law on December 21, 1920, died at the state hospital in Lincoln Wednesday morning.

McFarland shot Mayor Merriam while the latter was on his way to an American Legion play in Seward on the night of Decmeber 21. Faye Merriam, daughter of the mayor, was taking a leading part in the production and the mayor, was taking his family to the show house. He was waylaid about a block from his home by McFarland who, it is supposed was enraged over domestic difficulties.

McFarland shot four times, killing the mayor and wounding his mother-law and his wife. He then went to his home, across the street from the Merriam home and attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. His attempt failed. The trial court found him to be insane and he was placed in the state hospital in October, 1921. According to attendants he has been in bed constantly since that time and has at times been violently insane and difficult to handle.

He died from the effects of pulmonary tuberculosis. He was about 35 years old. His wife and son are living at Seward it is understood, with the widow of the man he killed. His mother, Mrs. Sarah J. Albright is believed to live at San Diego, California and his body is being held at Roberts' chapel pending word from her.

BRIDE MAY ASK FOR ANNULMENT

Lawyers Write to County Judge About Wedding of Miss Bainbridge.

Nurse Who Was Married in Lincoln Tells Strange Story.

County Judge Robin R. Reid received a letter Wednesday morning from a firm of Omaha lawyers relative to the marriage Sunday of Miss Ethel Bainbridge, 21, of Kingsley, Ia., and Harry K. Berry, 25, of Paso Robles, Cal., stating that the bride had consulted them about the wedding. It is presumed here that she may seek annulment of her marriage. Information from the county judge was requested. The judge married the couple at the court house early Sunday afternoon, issuing the marriage license at the same time. The communication, according to Judge Reid, stated that the young woman had told a strange story. Miss Bainbridge was reported missing last Saturday afternoon from Council Bluffs, Ia., where she was employed as a nurse in a hospital. According to advices from Omaha, she is declared to have said that that she went to a theater, to a dinner afterwards and then things went blank until she awoke and found herself in a Lincoln hotel, married to a man whom she knew but slightly.

Judge Reid said the girl appeared to him to be in possession of all her faculties when he performed the marriage. The couple told him they were going to McCook for a few days, where Berry formerly lived, and were then going to the coast.

George H. Splain, manager of the Star Taxi company and Miss Agnes Widhalm, a nurse in St. Elizabeth's hospital, witnessed the ceremony. Both were interviewed, and declared they noticed nothing peculiar about the girl.

According to investigations of Lincoln police, Berry had left Lincoln for California a few hours after the marriage in response to a message announcing the sudden illness of his mother. Mrs. Berry returned to Omaha.

U. S. Troops From Europe Once More On American Soil

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7.—The last American troops to return from the war in Europe touched home soil here at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon.

About noon the transport St. Mihiel on which they came, was cleared by quarantine officers, and later passed to her dock. While at quarantine the congressional party aboard the cutter Yamacraw and newspaper men on the tug McCauley, boarded the ship. They were vociferously greeted by the doughboys.

The crash of the guns was the signal for the ringing of "Big Duke," a huge fire bell in the center of the city. Immediately almost every bell, whistle and siren in the city added its blasts to the welcome.

The encampment will be held in Lincoln on May 1, 2, and 3, and the Sons of Veterans will have charge of the encampment work the same as last year, the Grand Army comrades feeling so well pleased over the work of their boys last year that they have again turned the matter over to them.

Those present at the meeting were: J. S. Davisson, department commander G. A. R., Omaha; Mrs. Helen Linderman, department president W. R. C., Central City; Bert Moriedge, division commander Sons of Veterans, Hastings; Mrs. E. E. Blackman, division president S. of V. Auxiliary, Lincoln; Mrs. Georgia Priestly, department president of Daughters of Veterans, Fremont; Mrs. E. Koop, department president Ladies of G. A. R., Lincoln; Paul Goss, chairman executive encampment committee, Lincoln.

A badge committee consisting of Harmon Bross as chairman and the heads of the different organizations was selected. Each organization will bear the expense of its own badges.

As was done last year the chamber of commerce of Lincoln will set aside funds to assist in taking care of the expenses of the encampment and it is understood that some of the business firms will assist in different ways in entertaining the visitors.

Name Executive Committee.

The executive committee consists of the following Sons of Veterans:

Paul Goss, chairman; William H. Smith, secretary, and Fenton B. Fleming, P. A. Barrows, F. P. Corrick and Dr. M. O. Johnson, with Commander Brown, Adjutant Fancher, W. J. Blystone and Ed Church of the G. A. R., while Assistant Adjutant General Bross and O. C. Bell will represent the G. A. R. department in an advisory capacity.

Interesting talks were made by heads of the different organizations and by J. L. Moore of Milford, W. H. Stewart of Geneva and C. B. Fuller of University Place, members of the G. A. R. council of administration and Past Commander in Chief P. A. Barrows and Paul Goss of the sons of veterans.

Department Commander Davisson presided at the meeting and O. C. Bell acted as secretary.

The executive committee will meet Thursday evening at the Lindell hotel, which will be headquarters during the encampment of all the organizations, the new proprietors very generously duplicating the offer made by Palm and Palm at the encampment last year.

ASKS SANCTION OF SETTLEMENT

Harding Urges Approval of Proposals to Fund British Debt As Recommitment of People to Validity of Contract.

PLEA FOR SHIP BILL IS ADDED TO REQUEST

Asserted Congress Should Enact Marine Measure Because It Is As Important to Avoid Losses As It Is to Secure Debt Payments.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Congressional approval of the war debt funding agreement negotiated with Great Britain was requested by President Harding today as a "recommitment of the English speaking world to the validity of contract."

Coupled with this approval, the president added in an address at a joint session of the senate and house, congress should enact into law the administration ship bill because "it is as important to avoid losses as it is to secure funds on debts."

Ample time for action on both of these measures, it was declared by Mr. Harding, remains before the present congress goes out of existence on March 4, and either, he said, was fit to be recorded as a chapter of great achievement.

No Specific Recommendation.

The president made no specific recommendation as to the form the action of congress on the British debt should take, leaving it to the leaders of congress to decide what methods should be adopted to amend the present laws so as to permit consummation of the agreement recently reached by the American and British debt commissions.

"It was manifest from the beginning," he said, "that Great Britain could not undertake any program of payment which would conform to the limitations of time and interest rates which the commission had been authorized to grant. But here was a

MORE TOWNS IN GRIP OF FRENCH

(Associated Press.)

ESSEN, Feb. 7—The German information bureau announces that the French have occupied Lennep, a Rhenish textile city, as well as Krebsoege and Bergischborn, two smaller towns nearby.

According to the same source the French advance is apparently part of an encircling movement which will include the occupation of Elberfeld and Barmen, both of which are textile centers.

Lennep, a city of 17,000 persons, is twenty-two miles south east of Duesseldorf. Iron and steel goods are also manufactured there.

The extension of the French occupation to the Wupper valley was accomplished by about 900 soldiers, the Germans assert. The French traveled in lorries, starting yesterday noon from the British occupied area. The arrival of the troops caused considerable excitement.

The population of the Wupper valley numbers about 500,000. Most of the workers are employed in the textile industries.

WILL ATTEMPT TO OVERTURN REPORT

Elsasser Wants Bill Modifying Anti-Picketing Law On General File.

Representative Elsasser of Omaha, announced Wednesday that he would try to overturn the report of the committee on labor recommending indefinite postponement of his bill to tone down the anti-picketing law, by moving on the floor of the house that it be not adopted and that the bill be placed on general file.

The Elsasser measure, H. R. 193, was prepared by A. H. Bigelow, labor attorney of Omaha, and had the backing of organized labor. It modifies the anti-picketing law by allowing union members on strike to use their persuasive efforts for the purpose of inducing men on the job to quit work, so long as no intimidation or coercion is practiced. As the act now reads, picketing for the purpose of "inducing or influencing" workmen to leave their jobs, or to discourage patronage of employing firms against whom a strike is declared cannot be carried on persistently.

The committee voted 4 to 2 to kill the bill. Chairman Gallagher, Axtell, and Hughes voted to report it favorably. Those supporting the adverse motion were Messrs. Strehlow, Wise, Burke and Kautsky.

Dismiss Parking Violation Charges Against Motorists

Fifty-seven automobile drivers charged with having violated the new two-hour parking ordinance, were dismissed Wednesday morning by Deputy City Attorney Boehmer, without any complaints being filed. Most of the alleged offenses were committed in the new restricted areas and according to Mr. Boehmer, sufficient notice had not been given to enable those charged to become familiar with the ordinance. The city attorney stated that beginning with Thursday all cases would be prosecuted.

The restricted area, according to Chief of Police Johnson, is now as follows: Eighth to Seventeenth on O; Ninth to Fourteenth on N; Ninth to Fourteenth on P; [illegible] to N on Ninth; P to M on Tenth; Q to M on Eleventh; P to the alleyway between M and N on Twelfth; P to M on Thirteenth; P to the alleyway between O and N on Fourteenth.

LEGION FIRM IN STAND ON LANGUAGE ACT

Commander J. Ed C. Fisher Says Ex-Service Men of Nebraska Opposed to Modification of Reed-Norval Law.

CANNOT FORGET LESSONS OF WAR

Twenty-nine States in the Union Found It Necessary to Welfare of Nation to Enact So-called English Language Measures.

An official expression from the state commander of the American Legion, expressing the purpose of that organization to oppose repeal or weakening of the Reed-Norval language law, has been given out from its headquarters in Lincoln. The Legion was mainly responsible for the enactment of the law in 1921, after German language interests had stirred up the question by trying to repeal the old Siman law, and it will use its influence to maintain the statute in its present form. The statement follows.

"In view of the fact that a bill has been introduced in the house of representatives providing for a modification of the Reed-Norval act, and in view of the long struggle in the past over the so called language law and the part taken therein by the American Legion, it is deemed advisable that a public statement be made at this time in setting forth the present attitude of the American Legion toward the present language law, which necessarily would include a statement of the Legion's attitude toward the bill that has been introduced to modify the law.

"A fight on the language law will unquestionably create bitterness of feeling and reopen old wounds which have been recently healed. It is not the object of the American Legion to continue a bitter strife over the language law. The Legion is willing to forget the war but it cannot forget the terrible lessons of that war. The war revealed startling conditions which, in the judgment of the legislatures of twenty-nine states in the union, made absolutely necessary to the welfare of the nation the enactment of the so-called English language law. These conditions have not materially changed. The vital need for such laws still remains.

"The American Legion of Nebraska earnestly believing that the upstanding rank and file citizens recognize the need for the present language law, will use any fair and proper influence in its power to preserve the present language law—the Reed-Norval act—and to prevent the passage of the bill which has been introduced for the modification thereof. Yours very truly.

J. ED. C. FISHER,
Department Commander.

Poses as Director Of Movie Catches Six Bootleggers

HARFORD, Cal., Feb. 7.—William R. McKay, Kings county district attorney, posed for ten days as a motion picture director, hired a detective to fix up a dilapidated ranch house to fit the scene for a mythical play "In Old Arkansas," and thereby brought about the arrest of six alleged bootleggers who delivered goods "to supply the wants of a company of thirty-five actors and actresses." One of them got six months in jail another was fined and four others are awaiting trial.

Pet Dog Runs Down Alleged Slayer of Taxicab Driver

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Just a common, every day yellow mutt—a soupbone setter—was credited by detectives today with the capture of a man suspected of murder.

Joseph Schlesinger, a taxicab driver, was assassinated last night by two holdup men when he resisted robbery. John Meisner, the prisoner, was arrested by police who found him cornered by the dog with bared teeth.

The dog had chased Meisner from a spot near the murder, his captors said. The dog makes a business of upholding the law as the pet of a night watchman.

Harding's Message to Congress on Debt Funding Proposals, Delivered by President in Person, Asks Sanction of Solons

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding today delivered in person before a joint session of congress, a message urging approval of the proposal for funding of the British war debt. The message follows:

To The Congress:

You have been asked to assemble in joint session in order that I may submit to you the report of the world war foreign debt commission, covering its accepted proposal for the funding of the debt due to the United States from the government of Great Britain. This report concluded on February 3, 1923, reads as follows:

The president:

The world war foreign debt commission created under the act of congress approved February 9, 1922, having received the mission appointed by the British government to consider the funding of the demand obligations of that government to consider the funding of the demand obligations of that government, held by the United States, report as follows:

Shakeup of Commission.

The British government designated as its representatives the Right Honorable Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and Mr. Montagu Norman, the governor of the Bank of England, who have conferred with the commission in Washington and presented facts relating to the position of the British government. The commission has also met frequently in separate sessions and has given the fullest consideration to the problems involved in funding of the British debt to the United States.

It became manifest at the outset that it would not be possible to effect an agreement for funding within the limits of the act approved February 9, 1922 and the commission has, therefore, considered the practicability of a settlement on some other basis, and though it has not been able, in the absence of authority under the law, to conclude negotiations, it unanimously recommends for submission to congress a settlement with the British government as follows:

Plan of Settlement.

Principal of notes to be refunded, $4,074,818,358.44.

Interest accrued and unpaid up to December 15, 1922, at the rate of 4 1-4 per cent, $629,836,106.99.

Deduct payments made October 16, 1922 and November 15, 1922, with interest at 4 1-4 per cent thereon to December 15, 1922, $100,526,379.69. Total $4,604,128,085.74.

To be paid in cash, $4,128,085.74.

Total principal of indebtedness as of December 15, 1922, for which British government bonds are to be issued to the United States government at par, $4,600,000,000.00.

Payment of Principal.

The principal of the bonds shall be paid in annual installments on a fixed schedule, subject to the right of the British government to make these payments in three year periods. The amount of the first year's installment will be $23,000,000 and these annual installments will increase with due regularity during the life of the bonds until in the sixty-second year, the amount of the installment will be $175,000,000, the aggregate installments being equal to the total principal of the debt.

The British government shall have the right to pay off additional amounts of the principal of the bonds on any interest date upon ninety days previous notice.

Rate of Interest.

Interest is to be payable upon the unpaid balances at the following rates, on December 15, 1923 to December 15, 1932, inclusive: 3 1-2 per cent semi-annually, June 15, 1933, until final payment.

For the first five years, one-half the interest may be deferred and added to the principal, bonds to be issued therefor similar to those of the original issue.

Any payment of interest or of principal may be made in any United States government bonds issued since April 6, 1917, such bonds to be taken at par and accrued interest.

Believes Settlement Fair.

The commission believes that a settlement of the British debt to the United States on this basis is fair and just to both governments and that its prompt adoption will make a most important contribution to international stability. The extension of payment both of the principal and interest over a long period will make for stability in exchange and promotion of commerce between the two countries. The payment of principal has been established on a basis of positive installments of increasing volume, firmly establishing the principal of repayment of the entire capital sum. The payment of interest has been established at the approximately normal rates payable by strong governments over long terms of years.

Low Interest Rates Explained.

It has not been the thought of the commission that it would be just to demand over a long period the high rate of interest naturally maintained during the war and reconstruction, and that such an attempt would defeat our efforts at settlement. Beyond this the commission has felt that the present difficulties of unemployment and high taxation in the United Kingdom should be met with suitable consideration during the early years, and, therefore, the commission considers it equitable and desirable that payments during the next few years should be made on such basis and with such flexibility as will encourage economic recuperation not only in the countries immediately concerned, but throughout the world.

This settlement between the British government and the United States has the utmost significance. It is a business settlement fully preserving the integrity of the obligations, and it represents the first great step in the readjustment of the inter-governmental obligations growing out of the war.

Respectfully submitted.
A. W. Mellon, Chairman.
Charles E. Hughes.
Herbert Hoover.
Reed Smoot.
Theodore E. Burton.

Everything Is Said.

In its comments upon the arrangements negotiated the commission itself has said essentially everything necessary to commend the agreement to your sanction. Note that the commission urges that the settlement is on a basis which is "fair and just to both governments," and "will make a most important contribution to international stability."

More important still is the closing observation that "it is a business settlement fully preserving the integrity of the obligations and it represents the first great step in the readjustment of the inter-governmental obligations growing out of the war." In these observations I most heartily approve. The call of the world today is for integrity of agreements, the sanctity of covenants, the validity of contracts. Here is the first clearing of the war cloud skies in a debt-burdened world, and the sincere commitment of one great nation to validate its financial pledges and discharge its obligations in the highest sense of financial honor.

Agree Debt Is Valid.

There is no purpose to report that your commission has driven a hard bargain with Great Britain, or to do a less seemly thing in proclaiming a rare generosity in settlement. Amid widespread clamor for the cancellation of world war debts as a fancied, but fallacious contribution toward peace—a clamor not limited to the lands of debtor nations but insistent among many of our own people—the British commission came to make acknowledgement of the debt, to put fresh stamp of approval upon its validity and agree upon terms for its repayment.

It was manifest from the beginning that Great Britain could not undertake any program of payment which would conform to the limitations of time and interest rates which the commission had been authorized to grant. But here was a great nation acknowledging its obligations and seeking terms in which it might repay. So your commission proceeded to negotiate in a business way for a fair and just settlement. Such a settlement had to take into consideration the approximately normal interest rates payable, as the commission suggests, "by strong governments over a long term of years," with a temporary interest rate and suitable options adjusted to the tremendous problems of readjustment and recuperation. Your commission went so far as it believed the American sense of fair play would justify. Even then the British debt commission did not feel justified by its instructions to accept the proposal. Only after submission to the British cabinet was the proposal of your commission accepted and I bring it to you with the earnest recommendation that it be given, so far as legislative procedure will admit, a cordial and prompt approval.

Is Important Transaction.

A transaction of such vast importance naturally has attracted widespread attention and much of commendation. It is a very gratifying thing to note the press and public

LEAGUE PLANS HOME FOR EMPLOYED GIRLS.

The February meeting of the Junior league was held Tuesday afternoon at Curtice hall. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Franc Hawley, juvenile court officer, who had been requested to speak to the league on the housing problems in Lincoln for young women and girls who are employed in the city at only moderate or small salaries and because of a lack of family and family homes are forced to live in boarding and rooming houses. The league is greatly interested in this problem and by next fall hopes to establish and maintain a home where girls without any homes or with undesirable homes may live in clean and supervised surroundings at a charge within their means. Mrs. Hawley said there is a great need for such a girl's home and to back up her statements quoted from the managers and owners of leading business firms who employ a large number of girls and women and people who are familiar with housing conditions with whom she had talked on the subject. They were unanimously in favor of the plan and the Junior league will continue its efforts and investigations along this line with renewed interest. Such a home will not be entirely self-supporting so will be started in a small way and allowed to expand and grow in proportion to its needs and the growth of the Junior league which is a young organization.

The plans of the annual Junior League Revue which will be given soon after Easter were also discussed and Miss Dorothy Raymond, and Miss Helen Curtice who are the general chairmen for the revue announced the appointment of the following committees:

Cast committee: Mrs. Bert Faulkner, chairman, Mesdames E. J. Faulkner, Robert Talbot, F. B. Baylor, Rolfe Halligan and Miss Frances Whitmore.

Additional committees will be appointed in the near future.

PLEASING PROGRAM GIVEN AT TEMPLE.

A very interesting and quite unusual program which thoroughly delighted an appreciative audience was presented last evening at the Temple theatre by two members of the faculty of the University School of Music, Gilderoy Scott, contralto, and Manley Phelps, interpretative reader.

This was Madame Scott's first public appearance in several years. Her friends were amazed at the progress and development during that time and were agreed that never before has she appeared so well. Her rich contralto voice has strongly attractive qualities, it is full and melodious with unusual richness, smoothness and brightness. The range is large and at times the quality was that of a mezzo-soprano. She not only has a splendid voice but she is charming with an attractive stage presence.

Madame Scott opened the program with a group of modern French songs which were most exquisite and in which she disclosed accomplishments, vocal and interpretative far above the average. At the close of this group she graciously added as an encore an old French song. "Charlotte's Lament" from "Wether" followed and in this the singer displayed a splendid dramatic ability. Her next appearance was in a group of modern English songs chosen from the English and American composers. To these songs she brought all the qualities which characterized the first part of the program revealing a fine intelligiblefiction which was indeed pleasant to the ear. Particularly charming in this group were "The Last Hour," by Kramer, "In Haven" by Elgar, and "Spring," by Hildach. As an encore she sang "Sing, Break into Song," by Mallison.

Manley Phelps is an artist and should be heard more often. He is not new in Lincoln but rather new to Lincoln audiences for he is inclined to hide his ability and accomplishments. His first group of readings which closed with a very dramatic reading of Kipling's "Boots," so realistic that one could see and almost hear the soldiers in their endless and monotonous march over the desert and sympathized with the man whose only look ahead was the boots of his companions, was splendid. As an encore he read an amusing short poem, "Folks are Like Fish," by Sarett. An outstanding number of the program was his reading of Browning's "Rabbi Ben Ezra," so very enjoyable and appreciated that an encore was demanded and Mr. Phelps read "Sea Fever," by Masefield.

The versatility an duet of both Madame Scott and Mr. Phelps was revealed in the last number, "Ballade du Desespere," by Bamberg. The translation is by Madame Scott and it is the first time it has been given in this country in English and the first time it has been given west of New York. The scene is the garret home of a starving poet who though at first refuses entrance to Death who awaits at the door demanding entrance, finally welcomes her as a comforter. The music as played by Gertrude Culbertson Bell, pianist, and Carl F. Steckelberg, violinist, was beautiful and appealing. Madame Scott did a fine piece of work in her song interpretations as did also Mr Phelps in his part of the poet.

Mrs. Bell was the accompanist throughout the program, adding very materially to the beauty and finish of the program.

The program follows: Modern French, "Quelle Souffrance," R. Leonmand, "Vieille Chanson Espagnole," L. Aubert, "D'une Prison," H Panizza, "Promenade a Mule," F. Fourdrain; "Charlotte's Lament" from "Whether" (Goethe), J. Massenet, Madame Scott.

"The Wilderness Call Sarett, "A Mother's Heart," Richepim-Phelps, "Counting the Cost," Gilliland, "Boots," Kipling, Mr. Phelps.

Modern English: "The Last Hour," W. Kramer, "Night and the Curtains Drawn," G. Ferrata, "In Haven," E. Elgar, "Beautiful Beatrice," A. Mattinson, "Night Song," C. Scott, "Spring," E. Hildach, Madame Scott.

"Rabbi Ben Ezra," Browning, Mr. Phelps.

"Ballade du Desespere," Bamberg, with translation by Madame Scott; poet, Mr. Phelps; voice, Madame Scott; violin, Mr. Steckelberg; piano, Mrs. Bell; scene, a garret.

FOUR BILLS PASS THE UPPER HOUSE

American Legion Relief Measure Amended—Third Degree Bill Adanced.

Big Delegation Arrives to Protest Proposed Change in Highway Law.

Sergeant York, greatest American hero of the world war belongs to a religious sect which does not believe in fighting. Yet he did not claim exemption under the selective service act. An amendment to H. R. 22, proposed by Senator Smrha and adopted by the senate Wednesday morning, would make Nebraskans who acted likewise eligible to the benefits of the $2,000,000 American Legion relief fund, a point on which there has heretofore been some confusion, as the law specifically exempts "conscientious objectors." The bill was sent ahead to third reading. Its main object is to take the custody of the fund from the commissioner of lands and buildings and give it to the state treasurer.

S. F. 29, so amended by Senator Anderson that it now does not mention the third degree, was advanced to third reading, as were Senate Files 62 and 73. The first makes the election of clerks of the district court the same as county officers, and the latter permits the Nebraska Press association to become a corporation.

The senate passed S. F. 14, the crow bounty bill; S. F. 38, providing for deposit of school bonds tax money; S. F. 90, taking crows and sparrows from under the game laws; and S. F. 91, increasing the wardens salary from $2,500 to $3,000 the latter by a small majority.

S. F. 100 was placed on general file minus the emergency clause. Whe measure reduces interest on liens against property for public improvement from 7 to 6 per cent, except for repaving, and makes assessments payable one-tenth annually in place of one-twentieth. S. F. 11 3 was killed new matter pertaining to creating a sinking fund and for deposit of the funds being incorporated into the preceding bill.

Resolutions from the Wakefield Commercial club and the Dixon county supervisors were read by Secretary Clyde Barnard, protesting against H. R. 171, or any reduction in auto licenses. A petition signed by twenty-two residents of Dakota county was presented against any measure to turn more auto license money over to the state.

Out-State Delegations Here.

This same idea, contained in S. F. ..., by Rickard, which provides that the state shall wholly maintain the state system of highways, and that counties shall turn over to the state 40% per cent of all highway funds, ... was due for discussion during the afternoon at a meeting of of the highway committees. Senator Good's highway committee, from some fifteen ... Representatives from ... counties were on hand to appear against the bill. Accompanied by Representative Orr, who has been ill for several days, the delegation called on Governor Bryan just before noon. Mr. Orr was taken ill again while in the executive ante-room and had to be removed to his quarters.

Senator Osborne announced a meeting of the medical societies committee for 3:30 Thursday and Senator Robbins a meeting of the ... municipal affairs committee at a ... The senate labor committee ... Thursday. The senate labor committee, of which McGowan of Madison is chairman, will hold a special ... public hearing on the afternoon of February 13, to discuss proposed labor legislation. The senate adjourned to 10 a. m. Thursday.

Following a meeting of the committee on committees Wednesday morning, Chairman Warner announced the personnel of a new committee on arrangement and phraseology, consisting of Senators Robbins, chairman, Smrha and Thielen. All senate measures will be scanned carefully by this body before going to Mason Wheeler, specially engaged for this purpose.

DROPS COMPLAINT AGAINST M'GRALE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Lincoln Girl Was Killed When Auto Hit Cement Post Near Bennet.

The complaint charging Myron McGrale with manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Mary Zarek, 18, October 21, last, has been dismissed in district court here upon the statement of Assistant County Attorney L. R. Doyle. Young McGrale pleaded not guilty in justice court and was bound over to the district court. No information had been filed against him in district court. The statutes provide that in case the county attorney does not wish to file a complaint he may make a statement to the clerk of the district court giving his reasons for not doing so, and if the statement is approved by a judge the latter may dismiss the case.

The statement which was signed by Doyle, declares that no information will be filed. Facts pertaining to this case were fully developed at the coroner's inquest, which "disclosed that there was no criminal liability and it is the opinion of this office that it would be impossible to secure the conviction of Mr. McGrale," the statement reads.

Miss Zarek met her death in an automobile accident while returning to Lincoln from a dance at Bennet. The car struck a cement post about ... mile west of Bennet. A cloud of dust, raised by another car passing in the opposite direction, obstructed the post from view. McGrale was driving. In the car were also Miss Florence Stiers, 20; Miss Vera Madsen, Earnest Franceen, 21 and J. O. Dean, 20. McGrale and Dean were university students. Miss Zarek's home was at Denton.

"For the Thousands of Aching Feet the World Over"

"I want all the owners of tired feet to know what a joy Cantilever Shoes are. I talk this shoe to my friends. I only wish I could spread this information broadcast—not so much for what it would mean to you, but for the thousands of aching feet the world over."

The lady in South Carolina who wrote that to the Cantilever factory in New York expressed a thought that has been in our minds for some time. Here is a shoe that is made at a profit and sold at a profit—reasonable profits to cover costs and returns on capital invested—but the greatest profit accrues to the wearer of the shoe.

Comfort and health are worth more than money. Neither one can actually be bought for a price, but you can buy the things that provide comfort and things that induce good health. In this category is the Cantilever Shoe, with its flexible shank permitting strengthening exercise of foot muscles and free circulation ... walk instead of the stiffness and restraint of the ordinary shoe with a strip of metal concealed in the shank. The Cantilever is made on natural lines and the heels are set properly to promote healthful posture.

Buy Cantilevers for comfort and happiness. Yours will be the principal gain.

"THIRD DEGREE" METHODS

The Nebraska senate has shown a commendable saneness in handling the Reed bill, aimed at third degree methods by law-enforcing officers. The bill in its original form was exceedingly dangerous although its purpose was commendable. There are still provisions which are dangerous to law enforcement at a time when greater effort to stamp out lawlessness are most urgently needed.

There has been a growing tendency in this country to resent the efforts of those charged with the responsibility of enforcing the law. That sentiment is manifested at every election. It is evident in the everyday utterances of people in all stations in life. We are prone to weep copiously over the acts of a few officers, who do not realize what they are doing when they subject suspects to third degree methods. We are too often likely to forget the hundreds of cases where those men charged with protecting the people often risk their lives in the capture of desperate criminals—men who knowing this sentimental side of the public deliberately prey upon it to defeat justice.

It would be regretable if the legislature should pass a law which instead of providing a means of punishing brutal law-enforcing officials, should prove the subterfuge whereby crafty lawyers are enabled to build up a defense in a criminal case which diverts attention from the main issues of fact.

That is the situation which the senate should investigate.

Every senator and every member of the house will no doubt recall innumerable instances wherein the attorneys representing men charged with desperate offenses have fallen back on the defense that police officers had subjected their clients to "third degree methods." It is the commonest subterfuge of a lawyer handling criminal cases. They prey upon the sympathy which the public too readily extends to the accused, forgetting in the same breath the victim who has suffered grievously.

The law already has placed at the disposal of the accused every means of establishing his innocence. It gives him the benefit of the doubt and places upon the state the responsibility of establishing guilt beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt. It would indeed be regretable if ill-advised legislation should make the problem of law enforcement more difficult.

THE COST OF OFFICE.

It is not a pleasant picture of public service that Byron R. Newton gives to his readers in a special article in the current issue of Collier's weekly. Mr. Newton is described as the former collector of the port of New York, a position which he resigned upon request, he states, because he would not be influenced by money or political expedient in the enforcement of the law.

He opens thus:

"From experience I believe it to be true that, as our political system is constituted today, any man who performs the duties of public office in strict accordance with the ordinary rules of honest work will usually leave that office bankrupt, both politically and financially."

The entire article is couched in much the same tenor. He tells of three incidents in his experience of not quite four years, when wealth and political influence was brought to bear upon him and upon those above him to aid those who were guilty of violations of the law. A wealthy man, a society woman and the friend of a powerful politician were the stumbling blocks in his work he explains and the latter case caused the demand for his resignation, with which he complied.

Mr. Newton is perhaps too newly out to give an impartial report of his work. He does not attempt to say that all government officials are dishonest but he suggests that more of them should be honest than are. His alleged expose is interesting whether convincing or not.

EDISON'S BIRTHDAY.

Thomas A. Edison is to be seventy-seven years old Sunday, February 11. He says he expects to live and work until he is a hundred. If he lives up to his expectations the world will doubtless be enriched by several hundred more products of his marvellous brain. His success as well as his health and his apparent resistance of age are all credited by this great man to one thing, work, constant, untiring, never ending work.

More than a thousand inventions have been patented by Mr. Edison. More than a billion dollars are invested in concerns and industries he has built and developed. More than a million people are employed by these same industries. No one man now living, perhaps no man living or dead has ever done so much for the comfort and convenience of the human race.

The electric light, the phonograph, the megaphone and dozens of improvements upon the telegraph, the telephone and upon almost every known electrical device, are only a few of his numerous inventions. All the world is ready to join in congratulations to Mr. Edison on his birthday and all the world joins with him in hoping he may live to pass the century mark in life and work and usefulness.

THIS WILL BE DIFFERENT.

When the time comes, as the scientists say it will come, that people can count on the weather as certainly and as far advanced as they can now count on the seasons and the procession of days and nights, life will present a new complex which will be as troublesome as it is valuable.

Imagine the newly betrothed in January planning her June wedding for the sixth of the month because it will rain on both the fourth, fifth and seventh. Imagine the tired business man and family planning in September to take their usual January vacation in March because January is to be warm and consequently easy on the coal bin while March is sure to contain twenty-four days of freezing weather and two heavy winds.

Imagine if you can, the residents of Medicine Hat confronted in advance with a year's outline of the very erratic weather that prevails there and picture if possible the effect upon Emporia, Kansas or some other city in the favorite path of Kansas tornadoes when the weather man can tell the populace six months in advance that a cyclone will blow the town hall down on August fifteenth.

What marvelous folders picturing the delights of resorts can be printed when the cover can state that Sunnyville, Florida will enjoy two months of uninterrupted warm, fair weather beginning on December twelfth but that visitors are urged to plan their return to the north in time to miss the bad weather which will begin at noon on February fourteenth.

Far fetched, yes. Yet some thousands of years ago a man who would have ventured to predict that there would be an eclipse of the sun even a day in advance would have been destroyed as a devil, or worshipped as a prophet. Prof. G. A. Loveland says that something of this kind is very possible in the no very distant future. The world is too full of surprises for us to express doubts about this one.

THE LANGUAGE PROBLEM IN HAWAII.

It appears also that the Hawaiian islands have a foreign language problem. Japanese immigrants are demanding the right to educate their children in the Japanese tongue with the purpose, of course, to retain them as subjects of the mikado. The Hawaiian government, however, insists on English as the only language to be taught in the lower grades of the schools.

In a decision by the district court of Hawaii, it is held that all textbooks used in alien schools should be based on the principle that "the pupil's normal medium of expression is English."

This is the identical principle underlying the Reed-Norval law of Nebraska and similar laws of twenty other states. The public danger involved in having foreign colonies planted here and there, where the leaders strive with more or less success to prevent the younger generation from becoming Americanized, has come to be generally recognized.

GERMAN CHURCHES "HARD PUT."

The news dispatches tell of a wild orgy of spending in Germany, precipitated in a measure by further decline in the German mark. The desire to "cash in" while the mark retains its present low value has overcome the German's traditional habits of thrift.

Nothing more strikingly reveals the complete transformation of German life than the situation now confronting the churches of Germany. They are "hard put" to exist. The German has always taken his religion seriously. It has been a big part of his life. From the time that Luther first aroused a tremendous religious fervor to the present day, the German peasant and the German business man has been a devout church member, liberally supporting the churches. Now reports reaching this country reveal that aged pastors are starving to death and others begging for food and clothing. Many of the clergy and their families are starving without permitting anyone to know of their misery.

All of the independent works of charity have fallen flat, the reports indicate. The institutions of mercy for the old people and children are without funds. The youth has lost its guide and the old people walk without support.

Nothing more strikingly reveals the conditions of grim want and dire despair in Germany as the crumbling support given her churches.

When something happens which troubles you, Dr. Coue informed a patient, repeat at once: "No, that does not trouble me; not in the least. The fact is rather agreeable than otherwise. However, when it comes to heating a house some of the landlords badly overestimate the number of Coue disciples among their tenants.

It is better to make a good resolution and break it than never to resovle at all.

Comment by the Press

THE ORIGINAL QUESTION.

Sometimes a blunt statement by a soldier puts a case better than the arguments of statemen. Colonel Owsley, National Commander of the American Legion, declared on the day that the last American soldiers were leaving the Rhine that France has "the entire support" of the American Legion "in her effort to make Germany pay her war debts." Asserting that Germany must be made to live up to her obligation to make reparation to France, Cololen Owsley went on to say that "she has sulked and has blocked the way." He added: "I believe she did not intend to pay on the day she signed the treaty, and do not believe it is in her mind now to pay if she can keep from doing so."

Whether this attribution of motive be warranted or not, it has at least the merit of calling attention sharply to the original question. This has been too much lost sight of in the controversies springing out of the French advance into the Ruhr. The law of the case has been much debated; protests and counter-statements have flown back and forth; prophecies about the result have clashed with each other; but we have heard little of late concerning Germany's duty to pay, and the fact that the whole avowed aim of French pressure upon her has been to make her admit that she ought to pay and seek to arrange the terms according to which she will pay.

In all the dispute about the facts under French occupation, in all the debate on the wisdom or folly of France in acting as she has done, this is the main point to keep in mind. Berlin has some glimmerings of the real crux of the situation, for it is announced by the Cuno Government that it remains willing to negotiate with the Allies, and to work out an agreed plan of reparation payments which Germany will be able to carry out. The French, on their side, profess readiness at any time to enter into the larger negotiation, though they point out that the conditions to be laid down now will necessarily be more stringent than those offered the German Government before. But these things are minor details. The main question, the original question, the cause of all the trouble, the motive prompting the adoption of forcible measures by France—all have to do with German reparation. Solve that one problem, and you solve all the rest.—New York Times.

More Truth Than Poetry

We are rolling onward, learning
To cast old beliefs away;
Sacrificial meat is burning
On few altar piles today;
Men are losing faith in magic,
Witches ride their brooms no more,
But starvation's just as tragic
As before.

Secrets that were dark are being
Stripped, dissected, and explained,
Men who learn to look are seeing
How the heights may be attained,
But the world still has its drudges,
Both of muscle and of mind,
And it's hard to get old grudges
Left behind.

We are rolling onward, leaving
The gray, massmatic mists,
Armed by science for achieving
What men once got with their fists.
Hopeful ones and wise are waiting
For Christ's love to be applied,
But it's hard to get the hating
To subside.

Nobler and more bright ambitions
Urge us forward; we arise
Slowly out of hard conditions,
Breaking old, retarding ties;
We can laugh at incantations,
Things once worshiped we abhor,
But about a score of nations
Are at war.

We are rolling onward, getting
Daily nearer to our goals,
Some men toting guns, some fretting
Much about their neighbor's souls,
There is killing, and there's maiming,
Fools in flocks are still abroad,
Most of those with troubles blaming
Them on God.

Steam, Steel and Dynamite Must Start It

Getting the necessary materials out of the earth is one of the spectacular operations in cement making.

Steam shovels cut into a field or a hill. Two tons at a bite—they strip away the soil to a depth sometimes of forty feet or more.

The stripping brings you down to the ledges of limestone and shale from which cement must be made.

Large steel drills follow. Powerfully, patiently, they chip their way through ledges that are often 30 feet thick. In a year, one of these drills will bore through miles of solid rock.

Dynamite comes next—75 pounds to a hole—more than 15 million pounds of it for the entire industry last year. From two to a hundred holes are loaded, tamped and wired.

Workmen seek cover.

A button is pressed. The earth trembles. Hundreds—thousands—of tons of rock leap from the face of the quarry and fall in a heap below.

Many of the stones come down too large; quarry-men must "pop shoot" them into smaller pieces.

When they are reduced to not more than a ton or so each, steam shovels load them into dump cars, and they are hauled off to the first of the giant crushers in the cement mill.

At a medium-sized plant—one turning out a million barrels a year—hundreds of thousands of dollars are invested in quarry and quarry equipment—air compressors, drills, steam shovels, railways, locomotives and cars.

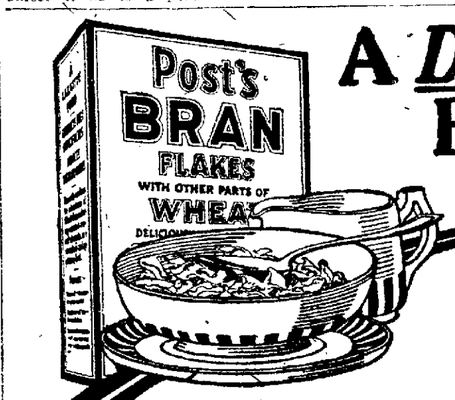

Where other materials besides stone are used—like marl or clay from a lake or pit—different but just as interesting methods are employed.

Getting out the raw materials is the first step in the long careful process of cement making.

RETAIL HARDWARE DEALERS CONVENE

Speakers at State Meeting Say Business Is On Upward Trend.

OMAHA, Feb. 7.—S. R. Derryberry, North Platte, Neb., head of the Nebraska Retail Hardware association, in his address Tuesday at the opening of the convention at Hotel Rome, spoke of the upward trend in the hardware business during 1922.

"A year ago business was not on a normal basis,' he said. "Many hardware plants were closed; many retailers had goods which they could not move. But they wrote off their high priced inventories and learned to go out and fight for business. today prospects are encouraging, although I see no big boom in prices and no large profit margins. Competition will be keen, but many already have enough orders to keep them busy for months ahead.

J. Hussy presented the president with a gavel in behalf of the association. The secretary-treasurer's report was ready by George Dietz of Lincoln.

Rivers Peterson of Argus, Ind., urged upon his hearers the necessity for vision and high ideals in business, the need of fine workmanship and service to the community.

Huck Finn Bunch Appears In Court

WYMORE, Neb., Feb. 7—A gang of sixteen boys, ranging in age from ten to fifteen years, were rounded up by Marshal Lytle, before Judge Moran, to explain why they were spending much of their time in a large cave wwhich they had dug in the high bank of the Burlington railroad where it crosses Ashby avenue, in the northeast part of town. The boys denied planning to do anything desperate, but admitted that they had a regular secret organization with regalia and passwords. They cooked and slept in the cave at times, and played cards. Judge Moran fined the ringleader $5 and costs and the rest of them $2 and costs. After giving them a lecture on what becomes of boys who stay away from home to smoke and play cards in a cave, the judge remitted the fines during good behavior. As a part of the sentence the cave was caved in.

FROWN ON TEXAN AS COMPTROLLER

Senate Committee Oppose Confirmation of McNary. Nominated By Harding.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Members of the senate banking committee considering the nomination of J. G. McNary of New Mexico to be comptroller of the currency, went to the white house today with the apparent intention of telling President Harding frankly of difficulties standing in the way of confirmation. National bank examiners have appeared before the committee, and a subcommittee of three is said to have stood two to one against confirmation. Some senators have been predicting privately that the president would withdraw McNary's name.

Action is being delayed on nomination of D. R. Crissinger, the present comptroller, to be governor of the federal reserve board, and meantime, the president who has told his friends he wants to see Mr. Crissinger confirmed quickly, is withholding his signature from the commission of M. D. Campbell, of Michigan, recently confirmed as the new dirt farmer member of the reserve board.

The senators who made the appointment with Mr. Harding today were: Chairman McLean of the banking committee and Senators Couzens of Michigan and Pepper of Pennsylvania, republicans and Hitchcock of Nebraska, democrat, who make up the sub-committee.

After the white house conference, Chairman Couzens of the subcommittee said the subcommittee members were still against confirmation of Mr. McNary.

Iowan Bound Over To Grand Jury On Mail Fraud Charge

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 7.—Hobart F. Lemon, twenty-five, Sibley, Ia., was arrested here Tuesday in connection with one of the most unique mail frauds in postal annals, which bade fair to spread throughout the country, federal officials said.

According to Postoffice Inspector W. M. Coble, Lemon, a former second lieutenant in the army air service, maintained headquarters of an imaginary firm which he called the "United States Radio company." Lemon would mail packages which were later found to contain nothing but newspapers, c. o. d., to imaginary persons in care of various hotels throughout the state. The next day he would wire the hotel manager requesting him to pay the charges on the package and when the person to whom the package was addressed arrived in a few days he would be reimbursed.

In Lemon's room a number of packages already for mailing and addressed to fictitious persons in towns scattered throughout Iowa, were found. On each of the packages the charges were the same—$12.98.

Lemon, according to Inspector Coble, worked the same scheme in Minneapolis a few weeks ago. He was bound to the grand jury under $2,000 bail.

Hastings In Grip Of Grippe Plague

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb. Feb. 7.—An epidemic of grippe is sweeping over Hastings. It is of a much milder form than the influenza that was prevalent a few years ago. Six teachers and 281 pupils were absent on Monday and that number was considerably increased on Tuesday. The city physician J. V. Beghtol, fell a victim to the malady on Sunday and for the first time in twenty-five years was unable to answer calls. He was able to be at the office Tuesday however.

Owing to the number of jury members and lawyers who were ill, Judge Dilworth found it necessary to excuse the jury until next Tuesday, Monday being Lincoln's birthday and therefore a legal holiday. He will devote the remainder of this week to such equity cases as be brought up.

HARDING MESSAGE ON DEBT FUNDING

have uttered substantially unanimous approval. It means vastly more than the mere funding and the ultimate discharge of the largest interest loan ever contracted. It is a re-commitment of the English speaking world to the validity of contract, it is in effect a plight against war and war expenditures and a rigid adherence to that production and retrenchment which enhances stability precisely as it discharges obligations.

"It cannot be unseemly to say it, and it is too important to be omitted, the failure of the British undertaking would have spread political and economic discouragement throughout the world and general repudiation would have likely followed in its wake. But here is kept faith—willingly kept let it be recorded—and a covenant of peace no less effective than it would be if joint British and American opposition to war were expressly agreed upon. It is a covenant of peace and recuperation, of respect and co-operation. It is a new element of financial and economic stabilization, when the world is sadly needing a reminder of the days of peace. It is an example of encouragement and inspiration when the world is staggering in discouragement and bowed with the sorrows of wars that were and fears and wars which humanity is praying may be avoided.

Asks for Approval.

Ordinarily I should be reluctant to add this question to a congressional program that is already crowded, in view of the short perio remaining of your session. But it is of such outstanding importance to us and to the world that I should be remiss if I did not invite your sanction even amid crowded calendars and pending problems of great import. And I hope you will be glad to approve. If the debtor nation could decide to assume the great obligation in two cabinet sessions, in the face of enormous financial and economic difficulties, surely the deciding authority of the creditor nation will be ready to approve in a spirit appropriate to the great transaction and with a promptness which will convey befitting apreciation.

Use Already Pledged.

I am not unmindful of the disposition to pledge the application of anticipated payments in giving sanction of the settlement. It is not necessary to remind the congress that the use of monies secured in the repayment of war loans has been pledged by the very grant of authority to make the loans. The repeal of that commitment is always within the authority of the congress if such a repeal is deemed wise, but it will best comport with the importance of such an international transaction to give a frank, exclusive and direct decision uninvolved by any disposition of the monies which the funding program ultimately will bring to the federal treasury.

Nor am I unmindful of the importance of pending legislation with which any prolonged consideration of the debt settlement might come in conflict.

Asks Vote on Ship Bill.

Knowing there is abundant time for ample debate, I would be recreant to my belief in the urgency of a decision on the mrechant marine bill if I did not renew the request that it be brought to a final disposition. I venture the allusion because it has been threatened that the merchant marine act shall not be allowed to come to a vote. Today you have a debt settlement which is to bring the treasury something more than a hundred and fifty millions a year, and we rightly appraise it a notable accomplishment. On the other hand, the executive branch of the government is charged with the operation of government-owned shipping, which is losing the federal treasury $50,000,000 a year. It is as important to avoid losses as it is to secure funds on debts or from taxation sources.

I have detailed the discouraging situation with our shipping, to congress and have suggested what is believed to be a remedy, not only to put an end to the losses, but to upbuild an American merchant marine to meet our cherished aspirations and further our commerce abroad. In inviting your support I frankly urged that if congress would not approve that it should submit some alternative remedy. I am unwilling, the public is unwilling, to continue these appalling losses to the public treasury when we know we are operating with no prospect of relief or ultimate achievement.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Cremulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Cremulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

RAISE PROTESTS TO INCOME TAX

Business Representatives Are Opposed to Proposed Revenue Bill.

Legislators Reminded That People Are Demanding Reduction In Taxes.

The Thielen state income tax bill, S. F. 107, had many enemies and few friends in evidence Tuesday afternoon. The revenue and taxation committee, under Senator Anderson, held an open session in the senate chamber, and the proposed law was assailed by individuals and delegations from Omaha, Beatrice and Hastings. Several business men admitted a preference for the principle of the income law, but all united in declaring that the time is not opportune to legislate an untried tax system on the state.

The bill, briefly outlined, proposes a tax on all incomes ranging from onehalf per cent on $1,000 up to two per cent on all over $5,000, with $100 exemption for dependents, and deduction of the amount of taxes paid on real and personal property.

Charles Sears of Omaha, former state senator and member of the tax commission, argued that it would lead to extravagances in state expenditures, as it has at Washington—that legislators would make appropriations and then arrange the income tax schedule to cover them. He noted that there is a constitutional limit to property tax, which would not apply to the new method. As a tax commissioner, he reported adversely on such a measure in 1914, and holds that if such a statute is enacted, it should only be done after long and careful study—for several years.

Yale Holland of Omaha, asserted that public sentiment is against the measure. Attorney Dressler of Omaha said that it would be a direct tax, and would further tend to alienate people from the government. He deplored the exemption of only $100 for a child, and the idea that a laborer or salaried man would be taxed the same on what he earned by hard work as a wealthy man on the earnings of inherited wealth.

F. B. Brogan of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, was of the opinion that the federal government is using the income tax source to its full extent, and even this is being reduced now. At the late election it was the general understanding, he said, that taxes would be reduced, and now it is proposed to seek out a new source of revenue. He asserted that new taxation revenues have never resulted in lowering the burden elsewhere, but in additional expenditures. He characterized the bill as drawn to penalize the man who has no property.

Where to Reduce?

"You have the machinery now to raise 25 to 30 million; where do you propose to reduce?" was a question propounded by J. W. Campbell, secretary of the state millers association. He argued that no matter what the actual effect of the income law would be, people would construe it as an extra tax burden and that an "unusual" tax would place unfair burdens on Nebraska business men competing with concerns in other state.

H. E. Cushing, Hastings, grocer, told the committee the proposed law will be class legislation, and cast a burden on men of moderate means. Attorney Tibbets, of Hastings, argued that the system is too new, and that it would augment the present business chaos. A. H. Jones, auto dealer of Hastings, also spoke against the bill.

T. Adams manufacturer of Beatrice, approved the income law principle, but counselled no hasty action.

Senator Thielen questioned many of the men who appeared before the committee, suggesting that the feature of the bill deducting other taxes paid will counteract the bad results they anticipate.

Another public hearing will be held by the revenue and taxation committee next Tuesday night.

House Members To Talk as Long As They Please

Legislative orators in the lower chamber are unwilling to tie themselves down to five-minute speeches. They voted down a motion by Mr. Whitehead placing that limit on remarks in committee of the whole.

"Any member can tell all he knows about a bill in five minutes," declared the Phelps county solon. "If we restrict the speeches to that length of time we will get more work done."

To this, Messrs. Wilson (Lancaster, Gilmore, Garber and Green demurred. They thought occasions would arise when the introducer of bill or the chairman of a committee reporting it would need more than five minutes to explain its provisions, and the house would need all the information it could get. Also, Mr. Garber claimed, nobody could work up a real argument in so short a time a sfive minutes.

The right to talk whenever he pleases and as much as he pleases was so dear to most of the members that Whitehead's motion got only scattering support.

Orders Radios to "Pipe Down" Until S. O. S. Is Caught

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—For hundreds o miles arlund New York last night wireless instruments ashore and afloat were stilled by the magic signal "Q. R. T." broadcast by naval communications in a dramatic attempt to snatch an "S. O. S." from the American freight steamer Winnebago in distress 500 miles west of France and somewhere north of the Azores.

It was first believed the steamship was near the American coast but in the calm ensuing after the "Q. R. T." demand for silence it was learned that the call from the distressed vessel had been relayed across the Atlantic.

The "Q. R. T." signal which means "pipe down" to radio operators afloat and "shut up" to land operators, cleared the air immediately, enabling communications to locate the call which had been given ship-to-ship relay until it reached this coast.

The situation clarified, communications then flashed "S. O. S." clear and the air again was thick with the chatter of the radio.

Howell Pleads for His Pet Measure Before Committee

Omaha's perennial electric light controversy was before the house committee on cities and towns Tuesday afternoon and evening, with United States Senator-elect R. B. Howell and City Commissioner Dan Butler urging the passage of the bill providing for commercial electric light extension by the metropolitan utilities district, and Attorney J. A. C. Kenedy of the Nebraska Power Co., talking against it.

Five members of the committee are from Douglas county. Two of these are understood to be in favor of the bill and three against it. The committee has eleven members in all. It has not yet voted on what recommendation it will make to the house.

GREAT WELCOME AWAITS SOLDIERS DUE AT SAVANNAH

Crowds Gather Early and Line Water-Front For More Than Mile.

Something Special Prepared For Every Person On Big Army Transport.

(Associated Press.)

ABOARD THE ARMY TRANSPORT ST. MIHIEL, Feb. 7.—Members of the army of occupation returning from their watch on the Rhine aboard the transport St. Mihiel are impatiently pacing the decks awaiting their first glimpse in five years of the United States. Preparations have been made for the reception planned upon arrival of the ship at Savannah.

Gather Along Water Front.

SAVANNAH, Go., Feb. 7—All Savannah gathered along a mile of water front early this morning to await the arrival of the transport St. Mihiel with the last contingent of United States troops to leave Europe.

he coast guard cutter Yamacraw and the tug McCauley, were ordered to take the official reception committee to meet the transport.

A party from Washington consisting of several congressmen and heads of various organizations arrived yesterday to participate in the welcome celebration.

Red Cross nurses were on hand, fully equipped to attend to emergency calls among the wives and children of the soldiers.

Prepare Monster Welcome.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7—Although without definite information regarding the exact hour of arrival of the United States army transport St. Mihiel today, Savannah yesterday rehearsed plans for what is regarded as its greatest celebration—welcoming home the last of the American forces which participated in the world war.

Radio messages received from the transport said the St. Mihiel at noon Tuesday still was 365 miles off Savannah and marine men argued the ship could not reach Tybee bar much before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Evidence that the St. Mihiel is fighting through heavy seas and bad weather was seen by marine men in radio messages intercepted here today in which the transport asked radio stations in South Carolina to give her radio compass bearings.

Regardless of the time of arrival of the St. Mihiel, however, the citizens committee directing the celebrations has timed its program to start with the appearance of the transport in the Savannah river off Colonial Park bluff, where two brass cannon captured at Yorktown from the British and presented in 1790 by George Washington to the Chatham artillery will fire a salute. Convoying the St. Mihiel from the bar will be the cutter Yamacraw with the official reception committee aboard accompanied by a tug boat bearing a committee of American legion and newspaper men.

The salute will be the signal for the ringing of "Big Duke" a huge bell.

At the dock a formal reception will take place followed by debarkation of the troops who will parade through Savannah.

A barbecue for the enlisted men will follow the parade, after which some 400 troops assigned to Fort Screven, will entrain with their families for the fort. For the other soldiers amusement at local theatres has been provided, the operators announcing all men in uniform would be their guests.

At 2 o'clock Thursday morning, the St. Mihiel will sail for Charleston, S. C., where she will land more troops, thence continuing to New York.

Food to Snowbound From An Airplane

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 7.—Pilot Kenneth Unger of the United States air mail service took his machine Tuesday to the head of American Fork canyon, southeast of Salt Lake City and dropped from the air 200 pounds of foodstuffs to three persons marooned at the Pacific mine because of deep snows. A telephone message from the mine yesterday said the fod supply was nearly exhausted and then arrangements were made with the mail service to bring Unger's airplane into action.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts.

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimuate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Big Ship Rams Cargo Vessel

Freighter Sierra Reported Sinking In Pacific After Collision With Passenger Boat.

(International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 7.—In a dense fog early today the inbound liner Wilhelmina, from Honolulu with a large number of passengers aboard, crashed into the motorship Sierra, outbound from San Francisco for San Pedro, near the San Francisco lightship, about twenty miles out from the Golden Gate. First reports reaching the harbor said both ships were leaking as a result of the collision and that the Wilhelmina was standing by the Sierra.

Tugs were rushed to the assistance of the vessels and the Golden Gate life saving crew hastily put out for the scene of the collision.

A later message said that the Sierra was sinking. She was reported to have a 45 degree list. The Wilhelmina was also reported taking water but still standing by.

The exact scene of the collision was reported as seven miles west of the lightship.

The Wilhelmina, one of the popular passenger ships of the Matson line to Honolulu, has a full passenger list aboard as well as a ful cargo of freight. She has a gross tonnage of 6,275.

The Sierra is owned by the E. K. Wood Lumber company, and has a tonage of 1,034.

Must Have Consent Before Abandoning Telephone Exchange

There are a good many things the Nebraska lawmakers can't agree on, but as to a telephone company being allowed to abandon a local exchange the members of the house are of one mind. They showed this Tuesday afternoon by approving the Wells bill, which forbids such abandonment without the written consent of 60 per cent of the patrons and an order by the railway commission, and sending it to third reading without a single dissenting vote.

The bill was amended slightly, to make its meaning clearer, and was then put through committee of the whole. Nobody talked for or against it. Mr. Wells said the bill spoke for itself. He was prompted to introduce it because the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. was suspected of transferring subscribers from the Endicott exchange to Fairbury and Steele City with the intention finally to dismantle the central plant at Endicott.

Action was taken on the bill immediately after it had been reported in by Chairman Burke of the committee on telephone, telegraph and electric companies. It is certain to pass the house, but it may have rougher sailing in the senate.

Welfare Society Handled 206 Cases During Last Month

Aid was given in 206 cases during the month of January by the Social Welfare society, according to the report of C. E. Prevey, secretary. Of these, 141 were resident cases and sixty-five non-resident cases. The greatest cause of need, as far as the tabulation extends, is sickness, sixty-five cases being assigned to this. The remaining forty-four were due to unemployment. Aid from other sources by notifying the proper authorities was secured in a number of cases. Six permanent jobs were found for men and sixty were given odd jobs. Twenty-two more, both men and women, were employed by the society, either in the industrial room for women or the wood yard for men.

SENATE BELIEVES TAXING IN FULL

Advance Rickard Measure to Eliminate Present $200 Tax Exemption.

Deal Death to Bill For Four-Year Term For State Senators.

S. F. 24, Rickard's bill for a constitutional amendment eliminating the present $200 tax exemption, was placed on general file Tuesday afternoon over the head of Senator Wiltse's constitutional amendments committee, which had recommended it for indefinite postponement. On roll call the vote was 19 to 11. Wiltse argued that the measure has been in effect only two years, not long enough to thoroughly try it out, and it would be manifestly unfair to tax people whose scanty living is dependent on what little property they possess, while the government allows the issuance of millions in taxfree securities. Osborne asserted that it would cost more to collect such a tax than the receipts would amount to.

In answer, senators Reed, Banning, Rickard and Bliss argued that all people should pay something to the support of the state, and that the present statute is not equitable.

Rickard also made an attempt to lift his bill for four-year terms for state senators, S. F. 23, condemned by the same committee, but was outvoted. Afterward, in committee of the whole, the senate indefinitely postponed S. F. 117, Gumb's measure making county assessors eligible to two consecutive terms, on Senator Banning's motion, after it had gone to third reading.

The following bills were killed on recommendation of the taxation comittee:

S. 130, by Wiltse, allowing back taxes to be paid a year at a time.

S. F. 129, by Gumb, to ascertain taxable value of real estate by five-year average of selling prices.

S. F. 108, by Thielen, permitting cemetery associations to certify amounts unpaid on lots for taxation purposes.

Three bills were recommended for passage. They were:

S. F. 97, Gumb's measure for reciprocal tuition relations between high schools across state lines.

S. F. 139, allowing probates of estates to foreign heirs.

S. F. 120, by Johnson. Declares notices to be legally published when run once a week in a daily paper for the number of weeks required.

New Committees Named.

The selection of four new subcommittees to assist the finance committee, as announced by Chairman Perry Reed, was approved by the senate. The members are.

State institutions (first): Bliss, Anderson, Smith, Ayles and Sturdevant. (Second): Purcell, Illian, Behrens, Thielen and Good.

Normal schools: Saunders, Hibbard, Meacham, Osborne, Kroh, Williams and Shellenbarger.

University: Lastings Banning, Reifenrath Allen, McTowan, Robbins and Warner.

The senate unanimously passed a resolution, introduced by Senator Wiltse, calling on the Nebraska delegation at Washington to support a bill in congress to distribute to the state excess war equipment, consisting of blankets and clothing, which could be used in the various state institutions.

Senator Bliss announced that the banking committee would hold a public hearing on bank legislation Wednesday evening at 7:30.

"Y" WANTS MEMBERS.

BEATRICE, Neb., Feb. 7.—The drive for new members of the Beatrice Young Men's Christian association was started Tuesday morning by the various committees in charge of the work. More than one hundred new names were added to the list during the day.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it fonts rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

THE GREATER LOVE

A New Romance by Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Author of Nation-Wide Reputation and Writer of Popular Novels and Short Stories.

CHAPTER LXCI.

Rain continued to fall. As the days passed, news came from the surrounding neighborhood that rivers were rising, and that, if the down pour continued, serious damage would be done to bridges and roads.

"But we can't do anything to stop it can we?" Victoria Walsh demanded, with a forced laugh.

She had called up Kenneth at his bank and asked why he had not been to see her. He explained that he had been working hard during the days, and that the weather had not been such as to tempt him forth at night.

He was too courteous to add that he preferred to sit at home and read and dream to going calling.

He was conscience-smitten as he appreciated that he had been so much absorbed in his own thoughts that he had neglected Victoria and her affairs. Now, as he heard her voice, he was sure that something was wrong.

"What are you doing tonight?" she demanded.

"What do you want me to do?" he asked.

"Come up here, if you have nothing better on hand," she replied.

Surely I will come," he agreed. "I shall be glad to."

He would be honestly glad to be of service to her, he reflected. His own hopeless love affair ought to make him more sympathetic with her in her sentimental tangle. But Travers was not the kind of a man to pin faith to—and Victoria was growing reckless and hard. Her father was making a great mistake in his treatment of her—yet nobody would dare say as much to him.

Lang pondered this as he took the trolley uptown. He compared his own state with that of Sam Travers. He Kenneth loved a girl and was in a position to marry her—yet she had said that she did not love him. Travers whose sweetheart loved him to distraction was not in a position to marry—if what Lang had heard of his finances were true. Morse or James Walsh forbade the match.

A Hopeless Affair.

This love affair was more hopeless than his own. Kenneth mused. For, since the receipt of Ruth's letter, his own prospects had not seemed so black as they had before. There was no step that he could take now. But, later, when he was actually on the ground in Southold in charge of the bank there—he might be able to win the girl—if she was not actually in love with Hamilton.

But by that time she might be married to Hamilton.

It was the same old problem over which Lang had gone again and again these past few days, and he shook his head impatiently.

As he trudged through the rain to the door of the Walsh home, Victoria appeared on the threshold. The light behind her threw her fine figure into bold relief.

"Come in, Ken!" she said, cordially. "Gee, I am glad to see you!"

"What's up?" he asked when he had divested himself of his raincoat and rubbers and had followed her into the small sitting room back of the huge drawing room.

"Everything's up!" she replied, laughing nervously. "There's no use announcing words at this stage."

"What do you mean by 'this stage'?"

"Listen and I will tell you. Mother's coming home to-morrow night!"

"Well, what if she is?"

In a Quandary

"Why, silly, it means that she'll watch me as a cat watches a mouse and that if I dare to try to see Sam she'll pounce upon me and hand me over to Dad!"

"Oh, no, it's not as bad as that," Kenneth soothed. "Only last week you told me your father was becoming more lenient."

"Yes and I believed he was because he seemed more human, and gave me a paltry check for a hundred dollars. But you see, he came in the other night and caught Sam here."

"Well?"

"Well, I may as well tell you all about it. It was Polly's night out. I had forgotten that. And when I told the fool-girl that I was expecting company that night, she only said 'Yes' ma'am' I suppose of course she would know it was Sam who was coming. For that is what I have always told her when he was coming and I wanted her to watch out for Dad.

"But it seems she did not understand. Dad had an engagement somewhere to dinner. And he came home early and quietly. And—well, Sam was in that big chair there, and I was sitting on his knee with my head on his shoulder.

"Oh! you need not look like that, Kenneth Lang! I had a right to be affectionate with the man I was engaged to, didn't I?"

"Yes, yes, my dear. But—what happened then?"

Victoria sprang to her feet. "Why—Dad swore at us both, called Sam a hound, and ordered him out of the house!"

ADVOCATES SEIZING DOPE IN TRANSIT

Commerce Chief Would Provide Confiscation of Narcotics Illegally Transported.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Drastic control of transit of drugs in international commerce including an international agreement permitting search, seizure and confiscation of drugs found illegitimately on shipboard in the same manner that international law sanctions seizure and confiscation of contraband of war, was advocated today by F. B. Eldridge, chief of the far east division of the department of commerce.

"This illegitimate traffic can only be restricted in three ways," declared Mr. Eldridge either by worldwide control of production of opium or coca leaves by world-wide agreement of strict supervision over manufacture and distribution of drugs, and by international convention or agreement reading the seizure and confiscation of drugs found illegitimately on shipboard.'

If you chew one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating you can have pie and cheese, doughnuts, baked beans, steak and fried onions, sausage and so on for your three meals a day and not have a sour stomach with gas belching fullness, pressure and the misery that comes from an acid stomach due to indigestion. CHILDLESS HOMES MADE HAPPY

Presence of Little Ones a Great Blessing

Four Interesting Letters

Cortland, N.Y.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was weak and wanted to become strong and have a child. My husband read about it in the 'Cortland Standard' and thought it might help me. It certainly did for I now have a lovely boy fifteen months old who weighs forty pounds. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends and you can certainly use my testimonial in your little books and in the newspapers, as it might help to make some other childless home happy by the presence of little ones as it has done mine."—Mrs. CLAUDE P. CANFIELD, 10 Salisbury St., Cortland, N.Y.

A Message to Mothers

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound since girlhood, having taken it when I was younger and suffering from a weakness and backache. Lately I have taken it again to strengthen me before the birth of my child, as I was troubled with pains in my back and a lifeless, weak feeling. I think if mothers would only take your wonderful medicine they would not dread childbirth as they do. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman."—Mrs. JOS. FALCOIN, JR., 552 S. 11th Street, Hamilton, Ohio.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me seven years ago. I was run down and had a weakness such as women often have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after being married sixteen years became the mother of a sweet little girl. I now have four lovely children—three fine boys and the little girl six years old. I had longed for children all the while and wept many a day and envied every woman with a child. I was 36 years old when my first baby was born. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is ailing with female weakness."—Mrs. J. NAUMANN, 1517 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

Was Weak and Run Down

St. Louis, Mo.—"My mother took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl, and when I was troubled with cramps I took it, and later when I married I again took it to make me strong as the doctor said I was weak and run down and could not have children I took it and got along fine and now I have three girls. So you know why I keep the Compound in the house. I am a well woman and do my work and sewing too."—Mrs. JULIUS HARTMAN, 2501 W. Dodier St., St. Louis, Mo.

PITCHED BATTLE AT BOOZE STILL

One Man Wounded In Three-Hour Fight Near National Capital.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—One man was in a hospital here with a bullet wound in his head and his two score of companions, alleged bootleggers, were still at large and unidentified today following their three hour fight with fifteen prohibition enforcement agents in Prince George county, near Walnut, Maryland, late yesterday. The wounded man who was said to be in a serious condition, refused to give his name before lapsing into unconsciousness.

In the seizure of three stills, one 1,000 gallon capacity, and a great quantity of corn whiskey at two of the largest known liquor plants in Maryland, after the defenders had taken to the woods when their ammunition gave out, the authorities say they have shut off one of the chief sources of Washington's bootleg liquor supply. The raids were conducted by Washington officers under the direction of Lieut. O. T. Davis and were said to be an aftermath of the wholesale raids conducted on local bootleggers last week.

No Alarm Felt For Submarine's Safety

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—It was said at the twelfth naval district headquarters today that no alarm was felt for the safety of the submarine R-6, enroute from San Francisco to Los Angeles. The R-6 had some shaft trouble before departing for the south and as it is 30-hour run for vessels of that type, the sub would not be due at San Pedro until some time this morning. Naval officers said it was not unusual to receive no position reports from such vessels.

JESS IN MOOD TO MEET ALL COMERS

Willard Asserts Willingness to Exchange Punches With Harry Wills.

Former Champion Anxious to Prove His Right to Crack at Dempsey.

DEMPSEY TO FATHER'S SIDE.

RIDGEFIELD, N. J., Feb. 7.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight boxer, left here today for Salt Lake, Utah, to be with his father, who is reported seriously ill.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Jess Willard capitulated to public sentiment today and proclaimed his desire to waft a formal fist at the chin of Harry Wills for the privilege of meeting Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship and the contents of the box office.

Floyd Johnson, Tom Gibbons and Luis Angel Firpo are to be accorded a similar courtesy, on request, it was stated. Announcement to this effect was made without ceremony by Willard's man of business, Ray Archer.

"Yes Willis," declared Archer today, in answer to a question, "Jess will take on the negro at any time and place that proves acceptable. If this match does not come through, he will turn his attention to Johnson, Gibbons, Firpo or any man who figures to give him a good battle. None is barred.

Jess Ready to Sign.

"It is said that the public has demanded that Jess meet another contender in order to prove his ability before signing with Dempsey. Very well. They seem to think a lot of Wills around here. Bring him on. We are ready to make the match."

A Willard-Wills match granted official clemency, would be one of the biggest heavyweight attractions of the modern era, and cash customers would swarm all over Boyle's Thirty Acres to see it. Regardless of adverse comment by sport writers on the subject of Willard's return to the ring, the public is keenly interested in his activity. As a co-attraction, Wills is of the best.

JAUNT TO COAST STILL IN DOUBT

Husker Tracksters Not Sure of Trip Until Two More Meets Scheduled.

The proposed spring vacation trip of the University of Nebraska track team to the Pacific coast is not a cinch, according to Henry F. Schulte, head track coach at the Cornhusker institution.

Athletic Manager Ray Cortelyou of the University of California wired Coach Schulte Wednesday accepting April 7 as the date for a track meet between California and Nebraska at Berkeley.

"This telegram does not mean that the trip is assured," said Coach Schulte Wednesday morning. "We must have meets with two other institutions in order to finance the trip. At present we are conducting negotiations with other schools for dual meets. The Universities of Arizona and New Mexico are included in this list.

Faculty consent must also be obtained before the trip is assured. This will probably be granted, as the trip will include the ten day spring vacation period.

Coach Schulte proposes to take 22 track men on the trip. Proposed dates are University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, March 28, University of Arizona at Tuscon, March 31, University of California at Berkeley April 7.

Sandow proved Myers' equal when each took a fall. The time for each fall was 56 minutes. Later Meyers succeeded in applying a double wrist lock on Sandow. This is said to be one of Meyers' most powerful holds, but it did not down Sandow.

BOBCATS OFFER 3-GAME SERIES

Peru Willing to Mix With Wesleyan In Post-Season Basket Contests.

Wesleyan Coach Stands Pat For Two Games During Regular Season.

Coach W. G. Speer and his basketballing Bobcats of Peru Normal school, champions of the Nebraska college conference last year, are agreeable to the staging of a court series with Nebraska Wesleyan involving the 1923 conference title, but not on the terms suggested Tuesday by Head Coach R. B. McCandless of the Methodist institution.

Tuesday's Star made announcement of the desire of Coach McCandless to schedule two Peru-Wesleyan games, one at Peru and the other at University Place. As the Bobcats and the Methodists have not met defeat in conference games to date, indicating that both aggregations may go through the season's slate without sustaining a reverse, the Wesleyan mentor suggested addition of a two-game series to the regular schedule for settlement of the title contention.

Over the long distance phone Wednesday, Coach Speer proclaimed the unwillingness of the Peru institution to enter into a two-game arrangement.

Proposes Three-Game Series.

"Peru will contract to meet Wesleyan in a post-season series of three games—one at Peru, one at University Place, a third, if necessary, on a neutral floor—but we cannot approve the two-games plan," Coach Speer informed The Star.

"Peru did not play basketball with Wesleyan last year, because Coach McCandless declined to put us on his schedule. After we had concluded our season, winning every game with conference rivals, thereby winning the state college title, Wesleyan proposed a post-season series. Wesleyan ranked second in the conference at that time and sought the chance, after refusing to schedule us, to win the title. Believing we had not been given fair treatment in the scheduling of games, Peru did not approve the Wesleyan proposal.

Turned Down by Wesleyan.

"When Peru was drafting its schedule for the present season, we presented two offers to meet Wesleyan, neither one of which was accepted. The best we could do in drafting the schedule was to contract for ten conference games. Wesleyan's schedule includes twelve conference games. A two-game series with Wesleyan, recently proposed, would not be fair to Peru. Should both teams finish the regular season undefeated and then split even in the proposed two-game series, Wesleyan would have the edge in the percentage and thereby be in position to claim the conference championship. Peru declines to be caught in that trap.

Seeks Permanent Relations.

"But a three-game post-season series is entirely acceptable to Peru. By playing an odd game, the winning team would qualify for a clear title. That's all we ask—a fair chance to win an undisputed title. We are willing to waive all schedule differences with Coach McCandless and have it out on the floor, which is the best place to dispose of disputes. I wish to make it clear that Peru is anxious to establish permanent relations with Wesleyan in all branches of college sport. The break with Wesleyan was not sought by Peru and we are anxious to get together and stay together. If a three-game series is fair to Peru, it would be fair to Wesleyan. I hope the Wesleyan authorities see their way clear to approve my suggestion."

Wesleyan Coach Says Nay.

Coach McCandless, informed Wednesday by The Star with reference to Coach Speer's counter-proposition, declined to approve the Peru post-season plan.

"Less than two weeks ago, the Peru coach authorized The Star to proclaim his desire to schedule basketball games with Wesleyan," Coach McCandless said. "We have offered to schedule two regular games, but Coach Speer suddenly switches to a new plan and proposes three-games—after the close of the regular season. Wesleyan is scheduled to meet the strong teams of the conference, while Peru will meet only the weak teams.

Two Games or Nothing.

"The Peru coach evidently hopes that Wesleyan may lose one of its scheduled games and thus put Peru, in case it maintains a clean slate, to again claim the conference title. In event we sustain one defeat, I am satisfied Peru would cancel the three-game post-season plan, and Wesleyan would have no recourse.

"If it is fairness that Coach Speer urges, why does he not accept our offer to schedule two games during the regular season? He authorized The Star to announce it was his desire to schedule Wesleyan and I submit the statement that Wesleyan has made good by offering to do the very thing that Coach Speer wanted us to do. So far as I am concerned, Wesleyan will play Peru two games during the regular season or not at all."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

The effect of special buying movements in individual shares ultimately turned the course of prices upward in today's stock market after an interval of heaviness during the morning which was the result of extensive profit taking in some of the popular issues. Sales approximated 1,-200,000 shares.

Motor, coppers, shipping, leather and farm implement company shares also were bought at slightly higher prices. Indications of profit taking appeared in some of these usual market leaders, such as United States Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker, but the recessions were held to fractions. Rails moves within narrow limits, the early leaders being Chicago, Northwestern, Canadian Pacific, Great Northern, preferred and New Orleans Texas and Mexico, up ½ to ⅝. Federal Mining and Smelting, preferred, Marine, preferred, American Locomotive, American Cotton Oil, preferred, Allis-Chalmers, Allied Chemical and International Harvester, each advanced at least a point. Foreign exchanges were inclined to ease on the disappointing overnight news from Lausanne, demand sterling dropping ⅝ of a cent to $4.67¾. French francs 13½ points to 6.26½ and lire 2½ points to 4.85 cents.

Prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's stock market. A good demand was noted for the oil, steel and railroad shares. North American advanced 1⅛ to a new high level for the year and Central Leather prefered was pushed up 1¼. Consolidated Cigar opened 1½c higher.

Reduction of the short interest by the recent spirited advance left the market in a weakened technical position with the result that traders found buying of poor quality when they began to take profit soon after the opening. Liquidation of a number of popular shares including Corn Products, Studebaker, American Can, General Asphalt, Famous Players and American Woolen caused recessions of 1 to 2 points under yesterday's final figures. The heaviness, however, was not general.

Representative industrial shares moved upward in the afternoon with the same facilities as they had downward in the morning. Baldwin, Studebaker, Pan-American, American Can, Bethlehem Steel B and United States Rubber establishing advances of a point or more.

The closing was firm. Bullish operations were continued in a number of special shares in the late dealings, Eastman Kodak gaining 7 points, but profit taking was resumed in some of the standard shares in the late dealings. Eastman Ko- Lehigh Valley falling back 2½ points from its early high.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 7.

WHEAT—Something of an upturn in the value of wheat tok place today during the early dealings, the impetus coming from renewal of warlike moves by the Turks. Falling off in receipts northwest gave an additional motive to buyers and resulted in a moderate amount of purchasing on the part of commission houses and shorts. A decline in Liverpool quotations was practically ignored in view of Turkish developments. The opening, which varied from ⅛c off to ¼c up with May $1.18¼ to 1.18⅝ and July $1.13⅜ to 1.13½, was followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Later the developments in the Near East had a tendency to restrict selling and the market readily advanced further, September touching a new high price record for the season, $1.11⅝. The close was firm, 1 to 2¼c net higher, with May $1.20½@1.20⅝ and July $1.14⅝@1.14½.

CORN—Persistent buying in small lots gave firmness to the corn market and to oats as well. After opening ⅛ to ⅜c lower, with May 74⅛ to 74¼c, corn score delight gains.

Subsequently all deliveries reached a new high price record for the season, including September at 76¾c. Further damage to the Argentine corn crop was reported. The close was strong, 1⅜@1.75 net higher, May 75⅞@76c.

OATS—Oats started ⅛c lower to ⅛@¼c advance, May 44⅝ to 44⅞c and later hardened a little in all deliveries.

PROVISIONS were weak in line with the hog mraket.

House Decides to Hold No Session On Next Monday

In the midst of its labors Wednesday forenoon, the representative diet happened to remember that next Monday is Lincoln's birthday. It very promptly decided to hold no session on that day, and in order that members living in nearby territory might have as much time as possible for their business affairs at home a motion was adopted that when adjournment is taken on Friday it shall be until 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The Amspoker bill to appropriate $100,000 for new industries at the men's reformatory in Lincoln, allowing a choice between brick, cement stone, or tile manufacture, was indefinitely postponed on the recommendation of the state institutions committee.

One of the bills brought out for the general file is the Bock measure that requires all state-owned automobiles to be plainly marked on the front of the radiator and makes it the duty of those using them to report regularly to the secretary of state on all trips taken, the cost of the machines, their upkeep, repairs, gaasoline, etc.

Chadron Presents Claim for $13,692

A claim of $13,692 has been presented by the city of Chadron to the committee on claims for the Nebraska house of representatives, as damages sustained to two underground pipe lines carrying water from Chadron creek to supply the city waterwarks system, which were rendered useless by the construction of a state highway connecting Chadron and Alliance.

E. D. Crites, city attorneey of Chadron, has filed a statement with Chairman Vance of the claims committee, saying that heavy grades and excavations were made on the highway, so that long sections of the water pipe were either disconnected or exposed to frost. The tubing ran under the roadway for a considerable distance. Some of it was 5-inch cast iron pipe, laid thirty years ago, and some wooden staves, about ten years old.

Objection was made by the city authorities, it is asserted, and they were told that whatever damage resulted from building the highway would be made good by the state. The city was compelled to replace some 10,000 feet of its pipe lines.

Coming Events

Cathedral court N. 1048, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, will meet in Knights of Columbus hall Thursday at 7:45 o'clock.

The exhibition of competitive drawings for The Tribune tower in Chicago reached Lincoln Wednesday noon and was placed in position that afternoon in the art gallery of the library buildig on the university campus. There are 135 designs in the exhibit, representing the best of the more than 200 designs submitted.

City Briefs

Verdict for Defendant.—The jury in the trial of the suit of the J. F. Garvey company against W. E. Lautenschlager returned a verdict in favor of Lautenschlager for $25 upon the latter's counter-claim for $200 for damages to his automobile as the result of a collision at Seventeenth and P streets, January 12, 1922. The plaintiff company brought suit for a like amount for damages to its motor truck, both blaming the other for the accident.

Pleads Guilty.—George Kubetzki pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny in Justice W. A. Hawes' court Wednesday and was fined $5 and costs. The complaint charged him with stealing $16 in money from the State Oil company.

DISCUSS RURAL SCHOOL STUDIES

County Superintendents Consider Courses of Work For Schools.

Dr. Muerman, Federal Expert, Says Town and Country Children Alike.

The course of study in the rural schools was discussed from many angles by some ten or a dozen superintendents who spoke at the state meeting of county superintendents at the Lincoln hotel Wednesday morning. Dr. J. C. Muerman, rural expert in the department of education at Washington, D. C., took part in the discussion. He will give an illustrated lecture at the Lincoln hotel for the superintendents this evening.

The immediate need of a new course of study was presented by Miss Emma Schwerin of Cedar county, and Charles Speedie of Otoe coutny. Miss Schwerin emphasized the need of a more practical course. Mr. Speedie, while taking the same general attitude, said he has no faith in domestic science or manual training for a one-room, one-teacher rural school. He esaid that not much improvement can be hoped for until the financial depression is relieved. He recommended the county unit for the purpose of taxation at least so as to even up the school taxes.

Miss Chloe C. Baldridge of Nance county explained her method of reducing the number of daily recitations by combining classes. For instance, one year the first grade language work is given for both first and second grades and the next year second grade language work for both grades.

Miss Emma R. Miller of Cuming county suggested that the number of recitations be reduced by giving the children projects to work out and omitting some of the recitations while they are busy on a project.

Separate Courses.

"Separate courses for town and country schools," was discussed by Wilfred E. Voss of Dakota county, and Miss Anna Donohoe, of Holt county. Mr. Voss recommended only such differences are are needed because of difference in length of recitation periods. Miss Donohoe said she thought there should be no great difference because town and country children should have the same opportunities. She suggested the elimination of subjects that are repeated in high school.

Miss Eva B. Shuman of Jefferson county told how she has vitalized the course in her county by having the children work out practical problems, make things and grow things. She told of one boy who was so interested that he refused to move out of the district when his parents moved.

I. D. Huston of Polk county recommended uniform text books throughout the state and said the bill now before the legislature should be watched. Miss Ellen M. Brown of Thurston county told of the advantages of uniform text books as she had experienced them in her two years of teaching in the state of Washington. She said that there are some objections but the good qualities overbalance them.

Summing up the discussions Dr. Muerman spoke briefly. "You can't draw a line between the town and country children," he said. Both take their places side by side after they finish the eighth grade, both in school and other activities. He told of city girls from the best families who were specializing in agriculture. He said that the majority of the rural teachers are girls who have always lived in town and they should be prepared to fit into their environment.

State Superintendent John M. Matzen announced that work on a new coursee of study has been started and the course of study will be ready by Junee, 1924.

Parking Signs To Be Placed On Light Poles

Parking limit signs to be placed two to the block along the streets where two hour rules are in effect, will be prepared very shortly and be placed on the light poles where they may be easily seen and read. The city let the contract for the construction of these signs Wednesday.

The sign will read about like this: "Parking limit two hours between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m." The signs will be black with yellow letters and will be large enough to make oversight almost impossible. More strict enforcement of the new parking time limit will follow the placing of these signs.

At the same time the engineering department reports that the concrete blocks for use as the markers of the safety zones at intersections where street cars stop are made and almost sufficiently hardened to put in place. The white lines which traffic erased about as fast as they were put on a few weeks ago, will be replaced and the concrete bumps placed along them, then drivers can pass a standing street car by circling the safety zone thus formed.

HOUSTON, Tex.—Eight persons were injured when a large truck loaded with gasoline crashed into a street car late yesterday. The gasoline did not ignite.

Big Crowd on Hand For Opening of Sale

A crowd estimated at 3,000 gathered at the Fred Schmidt & Bro. store Wednesday morning when the doors opened for the sale which the company announced. Officers assisted in in helping to handle the crowds. The management of the store expressed its gratification of the response which attended the announcement of the sale.

ACCESSORY MUST PAY FOR CRIME

Garber Fails in Effort to Cut Vital Provision From the Bill.

Twelve Measures Are Passed in Lower House Wednesday Morning.

Representative Garber got right in front of the locomotive on the legislative track and waved frantically for the train to stop; but the house refused to heed his signal and ran right over him.

That was what happened, figuratively speaking, when he tried Wednesday mornign to have H. R. 122, a bill making the acessory to a crime subject to the same penalties as the principal, referred back to the committee of the whole for a specific amendment cutting out its vital provisions. hTe bill was passed by the house, after his motion had been voted down by an overwhelming majority.

In reply to Garbers assertion that the measure was a blow at human rights which have been recognized for a thousand years, Mr. Baldridge, the bills daddy, declared that in nine cases out of ten the man who pulls the trigger or breaks the lock is not the real criminal but only a tool of some master mind. Conviction of those who place crimes and then iduce others to commit them has veen very difficult, Baldridge said.

Mr. Lundy made a similar attempt to ditch another bill, which he interpreted as permitting restaurants to use children in giving cararet performances. hTe introducer, Mr. Elsasser, explained that the bill didn't do anything of that kind. It isnply put restaurants under the child labor law, Elsasser said, and also allowed teachers to give public recitals with their pupils, but there was no connection between the restaurants and the recitals.

List of Bills Passed.

H. R. 168.—Reduces county treasurers fees from 2 to 1 per cent on paving, sewerage and special improvement taxes; 78 to 1.

H. R. 192—Corrective act governing sewer construction by second-class cities and villages; emergency; 78 to 2.

H. R. 143—Puts restaurants under child labor law and exempts recitals by dancing instructors; 80 to 2.

H. R. 156—Allows Douglas county inquest jurors $2 a day; 71 to 9.

H. R. 165—Requires secretary and treasurer of irrigation districts to give bond and make them appointive by directors, instead of elective; 84 to 0.

H. R. 223—Increases Douglas county attorneys yearly allowance for detective hire from $1,500 to $2,500; emergency; 81 to 2.

H. R. 270—Increases minimum penalty for automobile theft to three years in penitentiary (now one year), and makes possession of a machine with the engine number removed or mutilated prima facie evidence of theft; 81 to 0.

Much Sickness In January, Report Shows

According to a bulletin by the city department of health, an unusual amount of sickness was reported during the month of January. The bulletin states that the month was the warmest January since 1880, but that in spite of the high temperature respiratory diseases were frequent. This is said to be caused by the dry, dusty atmosphere.

No cases of influenza were reported to the department, according to the report.

Fifty-nine cases of chickenpox were reported, normal for the month being 25. Thirty-eight cases of mumps were reported to the department while the normal number is but five. Ten cases of pneumonia, twenty of diphtheria, and six cases of whooping cough were reported.

Dr. Chapman, in the bulletin asks for the co-operation of Lincoln physicians in reporting communicable diseases.

The Constantinople advices indicated the powers were disposed to disregard the order.

French Are Worried.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—The French government is considerably worried over the symptoms of extreme nationalist action by the Angora Turks. The news that representatives of the Angora government have warned the allied warships to quit Smyrna is regarded as indicative of the spirit prevailing in Angora and which is considered likely to affect the disposition of Ismet Pasha with respect not only to the clauses of the Near East peace treaty that remained contentious subjects at Lausanne, but also those that had already been agreed upon.

Meanwhile exchanges of views will continue among the allied governments as to how to prevent a fresh outbreak of hostilities between Greeks and Turks.

Quick Change Artist.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Even tenacious optimists admitted today that the prospects of signing the Lausanne treaty between the powers and the Turks appeared to have receded into the distant future.

Ismet Pasha, it seems, had another change of mind almost before the train bearing the French delegation homeward from Lausanne was out of sight, abandoning the conciliatory attitude which so impressed M. Bompard. This further manifestation of Turkey's facile changes of front have had an exasperating effect on Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary and even on friends of Turkey in France.

When the British government declared that Ismet must put into writing the text of the clause on which he and the allies were in agreement, together with a detailed plan concerning those to be reserved for annexed conventions, further asserting that the economic questions ought to be settled at once. Premier Poincare hastened to endorse this viewpoint and communicated it to Ismet.

great nation acknowledging its obligations and seeking terms in which it might repay.

"So your commission proceeded to negotiate in a business way for a fair and just settlement. Your commission went so far as it believed the American sense of fair play would justify.

"It means vastly more than the mere funding and the ultimate discharge of the largest international loan ever contracted. It is a recommitment of the English speaking world to the validity of contracts; it is in effect a plight against war and war expenditures and a rigid adherence to that reduction and retrenchment which enhances stability precisely as it discharged obligations."

Alluding indirectly to proposals to attach to the congressional act of approval a soldiers' bonus bill, the president reminded congress that the war time authorization for the loans contained in itself a stipulation that when the money was paid back it should be applied to the retirement of Liberty bonds and other government issues.

As a part of his statement on the debt negotiations the executive read a report from the American commission, headed by Secretary Mellon, describing the settlement as "fair and just to both governments," and predicting that it would make a "most important contribution to international stability."

Wants Quick Decision.

Mr. Harding's appeal for action on the ship bill was prompted, he said, by suggestions that its opponents were seeking to prevent a roll call on it before the end of the session.

"Mere avoidance by prolonged debate," he declared, "is a mark of impotency on a very important public question. I plead for a decision. If there is a favorable majority the bill should be enacted. If a majority is opposed defeat will be decisive. Then if congress fails in providing the requested alternative measure, the executive branch of the government may proceed as best it can to end the losses in liquidation and humiliation."

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

Aquarius, which is the birth sign of this date, is the Captain of the Host, who might hold the sceptre of the world Valuable beyond price are hope and trust. Precious beyond words is a life that has no broken promises To a great soul everything is great If people of this date once attain the divine in breathing with their mighty attuned will, they have only to lift their hands and the world obeys

People of this date must awaken to their wonderful possibilities Be no longer creatures of lost opportunities, of perpetual regret for what might have been

The governing planet is Uranus. The astral colors are pink and blue. The birthstone is a sapphire

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

"They talk about a woman's sphere
As though it had a limit—
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task in mankind given,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a whispered yes or no,
There's not a life or death or birth,
That has a feather's weight or worth,
Without a woman in it."

Dear Minerva: I live in a town of about ten thousand inhabitants, and am a member of the largest church in the town. We have a large church and an active one, and it is the women who carry on the greatest share of the work of the church. Of course the pastor is a man. But his wife does a work almost if not quite as important as his. For she is that kind of a woman. She has organized the women of the town into workers, and she herself visits the sick in body, and ministers to the sick at heart, and brings men, women and children into the church through the force of her personality.

When there is money to raise, it is the women who raise most of it. It is the women who keep a missionary abroad, and keep up the expense of a social service organization at home.

But it is the men who are given all the offices in the church. Now this isn't right in our modern day of equal suffrage. The church board is composed entirely of men. The deacons are men; so are the ushers. When we have a famous visitor it is the men who are appointed on a committee to receive and dine him. The men are given all the interesting showy things to do, while we do the work. It is the men who make the speeches at our dinners, while the women wait on the tables, cook and wash dishes.

Now is there anything fair about that. Don't you think we should have more important offices in the church when we do so much of the work?—ONE MEMBER.

A. You have the opportunity to serve. What more should you really ask for? It is what you give and not what you receive that makes for Godliness in the church. If the men are selfish and narrowminded and continue to exclude women from the offices of importance, that is their misfortune more than yours.

If women were to go on a strike from any church, there would not be a whole lot left. But to institute such a strike, or even to complain about conditions, is getting away from the spirit of Christianity, which is the foundation of the institution. Be glad and proud that you women do so much good in your church and community. And be patient with the men who must have their little importance regardless.

Babies Relieve Monotony.

Dear Minerva: Josephine's letter was a humdinger, as the children say. I think she told the truth. Only as long as the Bible says, "Children are a heritage of the Lord" I can't help thinking He wills them to 'be brought into existence.

Lillian would be happier if she had a baby or two. There's nothing like babies to break up monotony and keep away ennui, and hold husband and wife together. Only sometimes, as children grow up, they are a bone of contention between the parents and cause a separation. I know a couple who got along peacebly enough until the children grew up, and then quarrels grew so fierce and frequent the old folks sought relief in the divorce courts. I've known more than one case like that.—B. H.

Shopping Is Soothing.

If men only knew the soothing value of a shopping expedition (or jag) upon a woman, there might be fewer nervous, disappointed wives. So says the following writer:

Dear Minerva: I wish to say Hurrah to Josephine. She expresses my views exactly. Now another thing in regard to checking divorces is this: So many wives that I know have to ask the husband for every cent they need and consequently he says, What do you need now.

A great majority of the women of today worked before marriage and didn't have to account for every cent. When they needed anything they got it. I think it kills all the pride a woman has to have to ask for money. And at that the husband expects her to look as nice as when he courted her. Believe me, she gets over the notion of dolling up when pride is killed. No matter how small a man's earnings he should give his wife money for her personal use every week, even if it is only a dollar or two. She would rejoice in the fact that it is for herself. Now husbands don't think that would be enough for clothes and necessities. Women generally have some little sometime silly thing they want which puts life into her when she can get it of her own accord.

A little notion I had for instance was a pair of pearl earrings I saw in the ten-cent store for a quarter. And was real happy when I got them. You see we are just children grown tall. Little things please us too. If it were otherwise life would be hard and serious. The husband can gratify his whims when he wants to. But he makes it hard for his wife to do so.—MRS. F. E. F.

Questons Answered Briefly.

Prospective Mother: Your doctor advised you wisely when he said not to wear high heels at this time. You will be much more comfortable for one thing in low heels. For one reason it makes it hard to balance the body, for at this time there is a curious lack of balance anyway. The weight or center of weight, seems to change, and it's easier to fall, the ankles turn more readily. The position which the tilting heels give is bad for the general health, which must be safeguarded at this time.

Do not worry about the spreading of the feet and ankles. This is due to pressure on certain nerves and muscles and they will go back to normal after the baby has arrived.

Happy: Rub your chapped hands and elbows with a honey-almond lotion, or other healing cream, every night at bedtime. If within a week this does not remedy the condition, use cosmetic gloves—old loose leather gloves slipped on after each one has been generously coated with cold cream. Also take better measures to protect your hands. Never go out in the cold without first thoroughly drying them.

Stenographer: Try lemon juice for the ink stains on the hands, and rub a little cold cream into the skin afterward. You are better off carrying your lunch, than eating hurridly at cheap restaurants where the food is bad. But you should have something hot. Can't you carry hot milk, or chocolate to the office in a thermos?

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. —Advertisement.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

PROBE DEATH OF PICTURE ACTOR

Authorities Undecided As to What Killed Los Angeles Young Man.

(Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 7.—The authorities today announced they were investigating the death of Sheldon Judson, 27-year old motion picture actor, world war aviator and son of wealthy parents, whose body was found on the floor of his room in the family residence here, Monday.

Police detectives and attaches of the coroner's office were trying to decide, they said, whether Judson's death was natural, suicidal or inflicted by some other person.

The detectives said they found a glass syringe on the body and on a table nearby a quantity of white powder and a coffee cup containing a dark fluid. The county autopsy surgeon said death followed dilation of the heart, which might have been caused by acute indestigation. He said the powder and liquid would be analyzed.

Officers pointed out that Judson faced a charge of manslaughter as the result of an accident New Year's eve, when his automobile struck and killed Charles Brown, a manufacturer of tents and awnings.
